

GOVERNED RANGE GOVERNED PORTFOLIO 5 FACTSHEET

Risk Grading : Moderately Cautious / Balanced / Moderately Adventurous

What is a Governed Portfolio?

Choosing a suitable portfolio of funds to meet your requirements can be difficult. Our range of Governed Portfolios is designed to help with exactly that.

A Governed Portfolio matches your risk attitude to a suitable mix of assets and funds. There are nine portfolios to choose from so you can select the one that best suits your risk attitude and time to retirement.

What governance process is in place?

Your portfolio comes with ongoing governance. This simply means that our investment experts check it regularly. It allows us to maintain the best mix of assets in line with the risk category - and to make sure it is performing in line with its overall objectives - aiming to give you the best returns. The value of your investment can go down as well as up and you may not get back the value of the original investment.

If our experts decide that the mix of assets needs to be adjusted, it happens automatically on your behalf, you don't need to do anything. What's more, this service comes at no extra cost.

Who is this portfolio designed for?

It is designed for someone who has a moderately cautious, balanced or moderately adventurous attitude to risk and is a medium time away from retirement.

If you are not sure what your risk attitude is you can complete our online Risk Attitude Profiling Questionnaire at royallondon.com/pensioninvestments to give you an idea of your attitude to risk.

If you are in any doubt about the suitability of any particular type of investment, you should seek professional financial advice. Advisers may charge for providing such advice and should confirm any costs beforehand.

What is the investment objective?

This portfolio aims to deliver above inflation growth in the value of the fund at retirement, whilst taking a level of risk consistent with a moderately cautious, balanced or moderately adventurous risk attitude over a medium time period.

Where is the portfolio invested?

Does the portfolio rebalance?

This portfolio rebalances monthly. If a portfolio is not rebalanced regularly, the asset mix can drift significantly over time changing the suitability of the portfolio.

What is the portfolio benchmark?

The benchmark is a target against which performance is measured.

This benchmark is regularly reviewed and may be updated by Royal London so that it remains appropriate for the investor profile as detailed in the section "Who is this portfolio designed for?" or where a component index is discontinued or replaced.

The benchmark for this portfolio is a composite of indices:

Details of changes to the portfolio

The following table documents the last 3 changes that Royal London have made to this portfolio.

Effective Date of Change	Overview of Changes
07/02/2019	Governed Portfolio 5 Investor sentiment has returned to normal levels, rebounding from very depressed readings recorded in the last quarter. We think markets were premature to price in a recession, but near term economic activity remains weak. Having bought in market weakness at the end of 2018, we have reduced equity exposure in recent rallies, taking profits, the proceeds were moved into government bonds, commodities and short duration global high yield debt. We would like to see evidence of Chinese stimulus measures and a pause in US rate hikes boosting growth before getting more positive again.
10/01/2019	Governed Portfolio 5 Equities markets have priced in a US recession, which we believe is premature given strong labour market data and low real interest rates, although recent housing weakness is a concern. At the same time, our investor sentiment indicator remains oversold. In our view, the current recovery in stock prices has further to run; we again bought equities, increasing our above benchmark allocation, funded out of commodities. We may look to sell into rallies, as stronger economic activity in 2019 would probably spur a resumption of US rate hikes, ending the current business cycle.

Effective Date of Change	Overview of Changes
06/12/2018	Governed Portfolio 5 Markets remain volatile, driven by political and economic news including the US Federal Reserve signalling that interest rates are near a neutral level and President Trump conducting trade and tariff negotiations with China and Europe. On a longer term view, we expect global economic expansion to continue into 2019; while rates may be slowly rising in the US, they remain relatively low. With this constructive background, we continued to buy equities, increasing our overweight. With volatility expected to remain high, we also expanded the government bond allocation, funded from commodities, high yield corporate debt and cash.
